Quality Standards Adopted
City-Wide in Tempe

AzCASE is proud to announce that the Tempe City Council voted on February 12 to formally commit to using the Arizona Quality Standards for Out-of-School Time Programs making Tempe the first city in Arizona to officially adopt the standards.

"Tempe's adoption of the Arizona Quality Standards for Out-of-School Time Programs unifies the City's educational goals for its students," stated Tempe Councilmember Robin Arredondo-Savage. "Having these standards in Tempe ensures that we have a specific direction for improvement, allowing us to build a coming language between out-of-school time programs, schools, funders and families."

Two days earlier, the Kyrene School District Governing Board also voted to endorse the Arizona Quality Standards making it the first school district in the state to adopt the Quality Standards for implementation in all their extra-curricular youth programs.

Whether Arizona's youth stay in school, are actively engaged in their education, involved in Community Learning Center Program (21st CCLC), authorized under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) since 1994, is the only dedicated federal funding stream for out-of-school time youth programs. These programs provide critical expanded learning opportunities for more than 1.6 million US children and youth! The current draft of the ESEA reauthorization bill puts these programs in jeopardy!
