Quality 101

Courtney Sullivan, Arizona Center for Afterschool Excellence

There is widespread agreement that while OST programs can be strong tools for youth development, this is only the case when these programs are of high quality. Quality programs come in a variety of shapes and sizes. There is no one program, style, curriculum, or method that meets the needs of all youth. The session will help you get into the quality mindset using the Arizona Quality Standards for OST Programs. K-4, 5-8, 9-12. I, II, III, IV, V, VI, VII.

We're looking for a few good people!

Resource Manager

The Training & Resource Manager is a key leadership position in the organization that will curate, develop and oversee a range of training, tools, curriculum and other resources to out-of-school time programs and professionals across the state. This position has an important role in advancing high-quality programs through increasing access to resources and effectively cultivating strategic partnerships to expand services.

The addition of the Training & Resource Manager is also an exciting part of AzCASE's organizational growth and will be integral to expanding services over the next three years in response to a significant increase in government funding.

The Training & Resource Manager is supervised by and works in collaboration with the Executive Director. The position may supervise staff, interns and/or consultants, and will collaborate with all staff, constituents, board members, volunteers, donors, funders and partner organizations. Partnership Manager

The Partnerships Manager is a key leadership position in the organization that will oversee and implement AzCASE's partnerships strategy. This position has an important role in creating a sustainability strategy, establishing the infrastructure needed to advance the strategy, and effectively cultivating strategic partnerships to expand services and attract believers.

The addition of the Partnerships Manager is also an exciting part of AzCASE's organizational growth and will be integral to expanding programs in response to a significant increase in government funding.

The Partnerships Manager is supervised by the Executive Director and works in partnership with staff and board members. The position may supervise staff, interns and/or consultants, and will collaborate with all staff, constituents, volunteers, donors, funders and partner organizations.
