The Arizona Center for Afterschool Excellence and Cox Communications invite afterschool programs statewide to apply for one of nine $1,500 grants being awarded to create new or expanded ways for incorporating STEM based learning in afterschool or summer programming. Preference will be given to projects that incorporate technology.

Afterschool programs being the experiential, learning environments that they are have more latitude to be creative in introducing youth to STEM than many classrooms. The opportunities are endless! Make sure your application is in by the September 7th deadline to give youth in your program a chance to be part of innovative STEM projects afterschool!

The goal is for staff AND youth to brainstorm what might be done with STEM in your program that's not happening now. Is there a personal, local, state, national problem the children want to know more about and attempt to solve using technology? Do they want to:

- write, produce, and shoot a Public Service Announcement or mini documentary
- write, produce and film a one act play
- publish a photo story book with photos taken on digital cameras
- record their own oral histories or the history of a family member or
- travel the world, paint artistic masterpieces or learn astronomy on an iPad?

Find additional STEM resources on our website: <http://azafterschool.org/Resources/Activities-Curriculum/STEM.aspx>

Eligibility

Afterschool and out-of-school programs serving 6 to 18 year olds are eligible to apply and must submit a grant application with a full description and budget of their planned use for the funds prior to Friday, September 7. Funding can be used to purchase technology such as digital cameras, video cameras, notebook computers, iPads, or software for existing computers or equipment and materials that foster inquiry based learning in science or technology. Your grant proposal MUST describe how the STEM project funding will be used and the educational benefits derived. Grants will be awarded statewide to programs based on their creative and innovative use of age appropriate technology or proposed STEM-based projects for the intended afterschool audience.

NEW AZ Afterschool Directory Popular with Parents and Programs

The BIGGER, BETTER, and MORE comprehensive NEW AZ Afterschool Directory has been in the news, reaching parents across Arizona! Developed in partnership between the Arizona Center for Afterschool Excellence and the Valley of the Sun United Way, the AZ Afterschool Directory is the only statewide, bilingual centralized database of organized afterschool and summer programs, and now is your chance to make sure your program is included as parents use it to find options for the new year!

SURVEY RESPONDENTS: If you or someone from your program responded to the survey, we ask that you create a login and review and edit existing information to ensure that the directory reflects the MOST current details of your program at EACH of its sites.

IF YOUR PROGRAM IS NOT YET IN THE DIRECTORY: We ask that you create a login, enter the relevant data for each of your program sites, and respond to all questions so we can have data critical for our work with policymakers.

Once your data has been entered or updated, AzCASE will be notified and we will give the approval needed for your data to be "live" on the site.

It is important that you act quickly to either review or enter your program data because we are aggressively campaign marketing the directory to families so they have the benefit of the directory as the school year gets started. This is a brand new application, so if you encounter any difficulty inputting your data, please email us at info@azafterschool.org or call us at 602.496.3308. ## Integrating the Common Core into Afterschool Programming

The expansion of the Common Core State Standards in education opens new doors for out-of-school time (OST) providers to align their work with schools.

The standards are front and center on the national stage as states, districts, schools and teachers prepare for their rollout over the next several years. Many OST programs are trying to figure out what exactly the standards cover, and how to support schools and districts in implementing them.

The timing is right: The Common Core is emerging amid growing calls for expanded learning opportunities and collective action among schools and community partners. This gives the OST field a window to assert itself as a necessary part of children's development and education. The goal need not be to replicate the core work of schools, but rather to complement, support and expand it.

A new brief from the Forum for Youth Investment describes the Common Core, shares examples of OST programs and systems responding, and recommends how the OST field might think about alignment opportunities.

The Afterschool Alliance has released updated versions of its Campaign Toolkit and its Candidate's Guide to Afterschool. Particularly during presidential election cycles, voters' concerns are brought to the forefront of the public debate and widely discussed in the media. But what concerns will be raised? # Focus on Health

Afterschool programs play a key role in the health and well-being of youth through activities that encourage healthy behaviors, an environment that includes a healthy snack or meal, and opportunities for physical activity. This section features new topics, resources, curriculum ideas and activities to help you ensure youth are fit, healthy, and ready to learn. See a complete list of our afterschool health resources here>>

Healthy snacks make a big difference in the long run! A new study found that youth who lived in states with laws restricting the sale of snacks and sugary drinks in schools gained less weight than those in states with no such restrictions. Those same benefits, it would seem logical, could be gotten through intentional planning of afterschool snacks. Help fight childhood obesity at your program by encouraging kids to eat healthy!

Stay Cool. Stay Hydrated. Stay Informed.

Summer is in full swing! Dehydration, left untreated, can lead to heat cramps, heat exhaustion and very serious heat stroke. Watch kids closely for signs of dehydration, including fatigue, dry lips and tongue, low energy, grayish skin, and lack of tears. Children's body temperature rises faster than adults, so it is essential that they get plenty of fluids to keep them cool-especially when it's hot and humid!

Prop 204 Survives Legal Challenge, Will Be On Ballot in November Elections

After two court challenges, Proposition 204, or the Quality Education and Jobs initiative, will officially appear on November ballots in Arizona. The initiative, which seeks to permanently extend the previously temporary sales tax hike, would dedicate the funds collected to education and infrastructure projects, as well as children's health care. Secretary of State Ken Bennett rejected the signatures gathered in support of the measure, on the grounds that the paper copies circulated did not exactly match the copy filed with his office. However, both a lower court and a three-judge panel of the Arizona Supreme Court ruled that the campaign had substantially complied with requirements and Prop 204 will be put before Arizona voters in November.

Expanded Learning Tested in Denver and Los Angeles Schools

Some schools in Denver and Los Angeles will be taking the expanded learning time plunge this fall. The push in Denver began as a proposed hour addition to middle school schedules, but was scaled back to seven trial schools, elementary through high school, after angry parents and logistical snafus proved a challenge. The schools will have the freedom to determine how to use the extra time. Los Angeles Unified School District is using $1.7 million from the Ford Foundation and the California Community Foundation to provide extra time for high schools to provide real-world learning opportunities for students. These changes come a few weeks after Chicago Public Schools released data on their foray into extended learning time showing mixed results, and as states with recently-approved NCLB waivers weigh what to do with newly-flexible funding for 21st Century programs.
