Now open: Grants up to $100,000 from the New York Life Foundation for Out-of- School Time (OST) programs

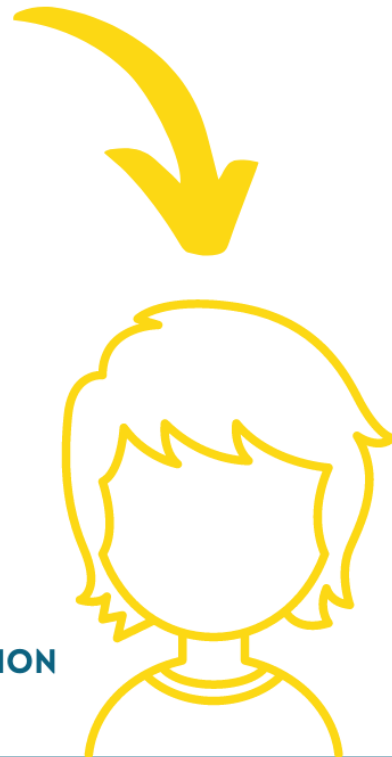

The New York Life Foundation is seeking applications for $1,800,000 in grants to afterschool, summer, or expanded learning programs serving underserved middle-school youth. This is the seventh year of the Foundation's Aim High grant competition, and this year's awards will bring the total amount awarded to $9.75 million! Forty programs will be selected for grants, based on their ability to help youth transition successfully to ninth grade and to provide academic, social, and emotional supports to youth.. This year, there will be two, 1-year grant opportunities. The first, will continue to support racial equity and social justice efforts. The second, will focus on youth well-being. Programs may apply to one of four grant categories - take a look to see
