NAA is proud to offer a new series of Professional Learning Communities (PLCs) starting this March.

PLC participants will engage in learning with an intimate cohort of colleagues from across the country. Together, you will gain tools and supports to...

- ... discover essential leadership skills.
- ... build culturally agile skills to walk the talk of equity and inclusion.
- ... strengthen social and emotional learning.
- ... practice intentional self-care to be the leader you envision.

NAA PLCs are a different kind of learning for the here and now. They are designed to inspire meaningful connections where participants join top NAA Convention facilitators and national experts for collaborative 6-8 week guided learning experiences focused on the most important topics in afterschool.

PLCs are $150 each and include at least 10 hours of learning and a certificate of completion.

Learn more and register at <https://naaweb.org/professional-learning-communities>.

Does your program want to have a STEM professional pop in virtually to talk to your youth or lead them in a fun activity or talk to them about career path, diversity and/or barriers?

Great news--AzCASE has a new partnership with Intel to make this happen for you!

Email info@azafterschool.org with the subject line INTEL and let us know what you would like for your program.

Best news? It is FREE to you!! Keep STEM alive and active in your program!
