Coronavirus, Racism And Kindness: How NYC Middle-Schoolers Built A Winning Podcast

Repost from NPR.org

World, meet The Dragon Kids. That's the moniker of an afterschool podcast club at PS 126 / Manhattan Academy of Technology, located in New York City's Chinatown neighborhood. They are sixth-graders Leo Yu, Angelo Chen, Becky Liu, Si Chen Xu, Zoe Jiang, Nicole Zheng and tenth-graders Joyce Jiang and Amanda Chen. Their winning podcast, "Masked Kids," is both a time capsule and a cautionary tale about life in the time of the coronavirus.
